This Is a Good Time To Buy Bonds

When loaning rates are high, and money scarce, bonds are cheap.

This has been the condition for several months in California.

But money is getting more plentiful, interest rates are declining, and by the rule of all experience, bonds will go up.

Attractive bargains in several issues are now offered, and we should be glad to confer with those seeking investments in first-class securities bearing good interest rates.

FEAR FOR BANK PREVENTED SUIT AGAINST PRATHER AND ADAMS BROTHERS YEAR AGO

Expert Who Investigated Books Reported Their Methods to the Stockholders.

The institution of an action against Thomas Prather, Edson F. Adams and John Charles Adams for an accounting of their management of the Union National Bank, while they were in power a year ago, was prevented only by the fear that an exposure at that time would shorten the life of the bank and hamper its reorganization. After the bank suspended payment the books were experted and the expert found the same conditions that have led to the suit, filed by Attorney Charles S. Wheeler in the United States Circuit Court.

The methods employed by Prather and the Adams brothers were made known to the stockholders, one of whom, George M. Perine, was in favor of immediately calling Prather and the Adams brothers into court. And not only did Perine urge a suit, but on his own account and at his own expense he engaged Attorney R. T. Harding to write letters to Edson F. Adams, Prather and C. E. Palmer, who was cashier, telling them of the discoveries made by the expert and asking them for a settlement.

EXPERT MAKES DISCOVERY.

Attorney Harding, speaking of the steps taken at that time, said last night:

"Mr. Perine came to me and told me of the conditions existing. He explained that the expert had found serious defects with the books, showing that much money had been turned into channels other than those necessary for the proper conduct of the bank's affairs. That Thomas Prather and Edson Adams were responsible for the entries on the bank's books which showed that loans had been made and other business conducted in apparent violation of banking methods, was Perine's allegation.

"I therefore, as his attorney and acting in his behalf, wrote to both Mr. Prather and Mr. Adams, calling their attention to the disclosures and asking for a settlement. I received no reply to these letters, and some days later Mr. Perine came to me and said he had decided to drop the matter, as he feared it would injure the bank after its reorganization, really doing more harm than good.

CAREFUL WITH DEPOSITORS.

"That there were other stockholders who knew of the conditions I am certain, and there were others who favored taking the matter into court. Not wanting to frighten the depositors and wishing to hold the bank together, however, the matter was dropped. Since then I had not given the proposition serious thought until I received news of the filing of the suit by Mr. Wheeler."

George H. Perine has since disposed of his stock. In fact, Perine had been a sort of compulsory stockholder, according to Mr. Harding. He had acquired the stock through a debt, holding the same as security.

While the present suit against Prather and Adams—a suit which promises sensational developments—is not backed by the directors of the Union National Bank as a board, the individual directors and a large number of stockholders are behind the movement.

R. M. Fitzgerald, attorney, of the firm of Fitzgerald & Abbott, which represents the Union National Bank, said yesterday that a year ago he knew that such an investigation as has recently resulted in the filing of a suit was in progress. In fact, Mr. Fitzgerald represented one stockholder who proposed bringing suit against J. Dabell Brown, one of the frenzied finance bankers. The suit was never brought, because Fitzgerald's client, like Perine, did not wish to injure the bank's chances of prospering by involving it in a heavy suit.

TALK WOULDN'T DOWN.

The talk stirred up at that time, and the disclosures made then, however, would not die out and the suit brought by Mrs. Mary J. Huff and her sister, Mrs. Theresa Calvert, are but the outcome of the unrest that followed the report of the expert that went through the Union National Bank's books.

Back of the two women, however, stand a large number of stockholders and some of the bank's directors. Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Calvert are only small shareholders and the reason for their filing a suit against Prather and Adams was because they were the oldest stockholders in the concern and held stock when Adams and Prather were in power. Some months ago other stockholders proposed bringing suit, but there was some question as to whether their suit would be legal, inasmuch as they had acquired stock after the reorganization of the bank. DIRECTORS NOT BEHIND SUIT. President James L. de Fremery of the Union National Bank said yesterday:

"The board of directors of the bank is not back of the suit commenced by Charles S. Wheeler. The stockholders are the most interested parties, and perhaps some of them may be interested in the suit. The present administration took office following the reorganization of the bank after the financial flurry, when for some days it suspended payment, pending the enforced holidays. The directors are heart and soul with any movement that will benefit the stockholders and the depositors. The suit against Prather and Adams, if decided in favor of the plaintiff, will benefit the Union National Bank. If it fails, it will not hurt us or the bank."

Friedman's Inc. CLOAKS AND SUITS

1058 Washington Street, Oakland, Cal. (Bet. 11th and 12th)

Come Sunday--Grand Ave. Heights is the coming fashionable residential section of Oakland--you must have a lot--you'll regret it if you don't get one Sunday

—If you don't get one of those Grand Ave. Heights lots next Sunday you'll regret it all your life

Two things are certain. First, that the biggest profits to be made in Real Estate investments come from buying undeveloped "Close-in" properties in the path of natural growth. Second, that the head of Lake Merritt is bound to grow up the great center of Oakland's fashionable residential district and that Grand Avenue Heights is the choicest land of all this "head-of-the-lake" property. You can see it at a glance. If you come out Sunday. Any far-sighted property buyer can see it. Any one who knows Oakland will acknowledge that the whole trend of events, as far as high-class residential property is concerned, is toward Lake Merritt and on up Grand Avenue Boulevard. Any one who knows Piedmont will acknowledge that Piedmont's growth is also toward Lake Merritt. And Grand Avenue Heights lies right between these two on-coming fashionable sections. And what is more these two sections can't grow in any other direction except towards Grand Avenue Heights. Remember this however: Grand Avenue Heights is not far out. It is within seven minutes of Fourteenth and Broadway. Oakland. It is right on the edge of Adams Point. It is a mile nearer Oakland than Piedmont and within walking distance of the center of the city and well within the city limits. The view is superb. The climate grand. It's the old picnic grounds of the pioneers. They used to go up "Pleasant Valley" as they called it, to get away from the wind and the fog and enjoy the scenery. And what a panorama some of these lots do unfold! The writer stood upon one of the lots Wednesday and watched the sun set. To the west shot with the rays of the setting sun, stood San Francisco, as clear and as plain as could be every building distinct. To the south lay beautiful Lake Merritt with three white-winged yachts skimming over its shimmering waters. Beyond lay Oakland and Oakland's harbor. Way down the bay to Palo Alto, clear as could be through the field glass. On the south rose the beautiful homes on the hills of Piedmont, the on-coming neighbors. In the foreground lay Oakland's new city park lands, to the east the rolling hills of Piedmont lent their glory and in all it was a scene so beautiful, so inspiring, so magnificent that it almost seemed a shame to try to describe it. Yes, you will regret it if you don't get one of these lots next Sunday. They're lots that in a few years from now will be priceless. You may buy Sunday for investment, but we doubt if you'll agree to sell even at a goodly profit after you've learned to know the wonders of this section. You'll want to live here yourself and you Grand Avenue lot will be your price less possessions, something of which you could not buy for money could not buy you another lot like it. It's an inspiration to go out to Grand Avenue Heights, and we sincerely hope you'll take next Sunday and spend the day investigating this matter, for an opportunity has been opened to you which can never be repeated.

PROVES HIM NOT SON OF THE PRINCESS

Almanach de Gotha Nullifies
Claim that Princess Chimay
Is "Baby John's"
Mother.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Those in New York who know Mrs. Isabella Martin are following with intense interest the reports of her trial on an arson charge in Oakland, Cal.

Attention is particularly centered in "Baby" John Martin, who, up to a year or so ago, was claimed as an own son by Mrs. Martin. Indeed, during the famous Martin trial in San Francisco some years ago, Mrs. Martin stood committed by sworn testimony to the maternity of the boy.

Therefore, when Mrs. Martin made the startling announcement that "Baby John" is not her child, but the son of the one-time Princess Chimay, formerly Clara Ward of Detroit, those here who knew her contentions in the Martin trial case marveled at a little.

CLAIM IS REFUTED.
The recent recurrence of the statement has led to an investigation of the matter, and in the pages of the "Almanach de Gotha," the official cyclopedia of pedigree of the nobility of Europe, is found the data which it is believed effectually disproves the claim that "Baby John" is a son of the former Princess Chimay.

Mrs. Martin is on record as definitely fixing the date of "Baby John's" birth as May 5, 1891. In the Almanach de Gotha it is recited that Joseph Marie Anatole de Rigo, fourth Prince de Chimay, was married to Clara Ward of Detroit in Paris, May 20, 1890. They had two children. The first was a girl, the Countess Marie Elizabeth Catherine Annote, born in Paris on May 30, 1891. A boy, Prince Joseph Anatole Pierre Alphonse, was born in Paris August 6, 1894.

ATTESTED BY PARIS RECORDS.
Thus it is pointed out that as the Princess Chimay in Paris on May 30, 1891, gave birth to a daughter, whose nativity is attested by the Paris records, and who is alive and under the care of the Ward family today, this same princess manifestly could not have become the mother of "Baby John" in New York on May 5, 1891, twenty-five days before.

The scribbling of "Baby John's" alleged criminal propensities to the strain of Rigo's wild gypsy blood in his veins has also met with seeming refutation here when it is stated by friends of Rigo and corroborated by Rigo himself that he never even met the Princess Chimay until at last five years after "Baby John" was born.

Rigo is in New York today and leads a cafe orchestra in Harlem.

While she was in New York last year Mrs. Martin called on Dr. Austin Flint, the alienist, who was one of the experts in the Thaw case.

HAD "BABY JOHN" EXAMINED.
She brought "Baby John" with her and wanted Dr. Flint to make an examination of the boy and give an opinion as to whether he is a congenital criminal. Dr. Flint did not make an extensive examination, and Mrs. Martin and "Baby John" did not return again.

Recently a court commissioner appointed by the Supreme Court of California, on motion of Mrs. Martin's counsel, came here and sought to force Dr. Flint to give testimony regarding what he learned of "Baby John's" mental and moral condition, but the alienist declined to testify on the ground of professional privilege.

Dr. Flint would not discuss the case yesterday, further than to say that he would not testify either here or in the California courts regarding his meeting with "Baby John" or any opinion he may have formed regarding the youth.

COURT-MARTIAL OF DESERTERS.
SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 23.—Sheriff Stewart left this city today for Atascadero to witness the court-martial tomorrow of four members of the Fifth Cavalry who deserted while the troops were passing through this city on route to the camp. Stewart arrested the four men at the request of Lieutenant Sheridan. One of the deserters was subdued only after a struggle.

SURGEONS FAIL TO MAKE BOY "GOOD"

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 23.—Surgical skill as applied in a Philadelphia hospital two years ago, whereby it was hoped to relieve brain pressure by removing a piece of skull, did not work out in the case of Charles Spurgeon Welty, fourteen years old, of Nazareth, Pa. Charles is still a "bad" boy, according to his father, despite the work of skilled physicians to correct his waywardness with the knife.

The lad was today brought to Easton by his father, Charles Welty, and turned over to the authorities, who committed him to prison. His case will be considered at a session of the Juvenile Court. Two weeks ago it is alleged, that the youngster broke into the cellar of the Commercial Hotel, in Nazareth, where he stole a lot of wine. Later on the same night the police say he robbed a cigar factory.

Young Welty disappeared after the robbery. He was found yesterday by his father, who says that he is afraid the boy will kill some one if permitted to remain at large. Before he underwent the surgical operation young Welty was arrested on a charge of stealing a horse. Then, he threatened to shoot a policeman when the latter attempted to arrest him. When but little more than ten years old he prevented a school teacher from whipping him by thrusting the muzzle of a revolver in her face.

CONTENDS TIPS HELP SERVICE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Tips, cold storage meats and service to benefit the general public were discussed at the annual meeting of the American Car Service Superintendents yesterday, the session closing with a dinner to the officers and forty delegates.

"It has been said," President H. S. Calcutt of Covington, Ky., asserted, "that we are endeavoring to evade the pure food laws. We are trying to have them enforced to the fullest extent. Our service has been improved with these laws and with a stricter enforcement means on lining cars will be up to the standard of the best hotels."

The question of discontinuing tips evoked an argument, the majority of those present contending that "without tips the service would not be improved and might lead to a lower standard of help. The question was laid over until the meeting today.

A Significant Indorsement Of Judge Melvin.

The decent press of the State is giving voice to its desire for the election of Judge Melvin to the place on the Supreme bench that he now occupies by appointment. It recognizes him as in every way competent and deserving, and is doing what is possible and ought to be done by newspapers which act upon their conception of duty to further his election.

A few days ago a San Francisco evening journal that sets the pace for that division of the interior press that is afflicted with the Lincoln-Roosevelt League microbe had an editorial intended as a pointer for the benefit of the small fry of its kind. It assailed Judge Melvin as the friend of others who were not liked by the venomous journal, though not making direct charges against the jurist. But the interior papers which have more or less followed this leader balk at this palpable show of malice.

The San Luis Obispo Tribune, for instance, repudiates the charges of the malignant journal against the jurist. Quoting a part of them, wherein he is referred to as a "Herrin machine man," it says: "No charge could be more unjust. Judge Melvin is a free man in every sense of the word. It is true that so-called machine politicians of the State have backed him in the past," and it adds, "those who opposed the machine were just as strongly in favor of Judge Melvin during his political battles in Alameda county."

This journal proceeds to tell how the Lincoln-Roosevelt League won out in Alameda county in the recent primary election, securing a majority of the delegates to the county convention, and adds: "These delegates nominated Judge Melvin for re-election to the Superior Court of that county. The League recognized his great personal popularity and strength, and so did the so-called machine. His candidacy they were both compelled to indorse, for it was a candidacy indorsed by the people of all factions."

The Tribune reminds its readers that while the San Luis Obispo delegation was split at the State convention, casting three votes for the regular Republicans and five against them, the whole eight were cast for Melvin as delegate-at-large to the National convention, and concludes:

"Judge Melvin is the ideal jurist. He is able and independent, and no one should be led astray by the silly twaddle in the Bulletin. Vote for Judge Melvin. Let every friend of his rally to his support. He can tell a good story, it is true, but on the bench he has the reputation of being one of California's ablest judges."

This from a Lincoln-Roosevelt League paper is significant of the general recognition of Judge Melvin's claims to the votes of the people. It also indicates a growing disgust with the indiscriminate attacks of the malignant press of San Francisco.

Interests of Employer and Employee Identical.

It is apparent that in the industrial centers of the East the campaign effort on the part of the Democratic candidate is in the direction of inducing organized labor to accept the contention of Gompers as to the wisdom of voting for Bryan. This view is in some degree acknowledged by Republican speakers and leaders through the speech of Senator Knox that called forth the President's latest letter, and by the trend of some of Mr. Taft's speeches.

The Bryan tactics is to urge that employers are leagued to defeat him, and thereby to deny more definitely the demands of Mr. Gompers, whom in his last speech he defends unequivocally.

It must be accepted as a strange thing that organized labor, or any labor, should lend a serious ear for an instant to the contention that its interest lies in worrying the class of men that must be expected to furnish it employment. The idea that opportunity will be increased and wages raised for employees by making it more hazardous and uncertain for the employer is surely Bryanic. But such point has been made before by demagogues, and not without some measure of success. The spectacle is here afforded of a class which is not composed of employers, which is not engaged or concerned industrially in considerable degree, advising workers that those who are putting forth industrial effort, engaging in enterprises bound to furnish large opportunity for labor if they can be kept going, are the natural enemies of the laboring man, and that the interests of the laboring class are only to be conserved by turning their backs upon those whose capital, experience and genius in conducting large enterprises has been demonstrated, and favoring theorists who, not being responsible, are willing to make all sorts of promises, and which they can not pretend to keep. It is not wholly reassuring that this situation should be considered serious enough to induce the Republican party managers to take action to meet it.

At Hinton, West Virginia, yesterday Bryan repeated his warning to laboring men, "not to be coerced by their employers into voting against their will." This amounts to advising the laboring man to regard his employer as his enemy, vote against his interests and let the whole matter in the hands of Bryan. The laboring man's opportunity is then to be greatly increased. Bryan is not an employer, and has always attacked men and interests that furnish the laboring man with his opportunity to work; and for the laboring man to vote for him now will greatly enlarge the field for labor—a great many "don't think." After the laboring men have followed Mr. Bryan's advice, in the very remote possibility of their helping his election, he is expected to make more than good the defections of all employers who, through lack of confidence, may not find the altered conditions such as justify even as extensive line of operations as they now maintain.

Nobody is likely to interfere with Congressman Hayes when he gets around to the carrying out of his intent to "do up" Speaker Cannon, but some who have knowledge of the character of both could like to be on hand at the psychological moment. Speaker Cannon has a way of his own.

Women in a mining town waved their aprons at Mr. Bryan, which gave him the opportunity to emit a mot, to the effect that he does not "go in" on a tidal wave, he will surely go in on an iron wave. Which stroke of wit is to be duly taken into account.

Regarding the questions that President Roosevelt put so direct to Mr. Bryan, a good many are wondering how the Democratic candidate will manage to shift the same and still maintain his controversial reputation; for he does seem to be in a tight place.

Another baron "has come" and "went," at San Francisco, and the admen and society are left grieving. This sort of thing has been repeated so often in the last twenty-five years that one would think a line ought to be had on it by now.

Oakland's Decreasing Death Rate.

As wide a promulgation as is possible should be secured for the public records that show such a striking decrease in the death rate of this city. The general fact that can be appreciated at a glance is that the number of deaths for the last six months was 16 per cent less than for the corresponding six months of last year.

The total number of deaths for the six months of 1907 was 960, an average of 160 a month. For the six months of this year the total was 812, or 135 a month. There have been no climatic conditions that account for the difference in any degree, and in the calculation the increase of population does not enter.

One explanation of this striking decrease is attempted in connection with the Federal rat crusade. This may have been a factor in improving conditions, for in addition to destroying rodents that may have been infected it resulted in the abatement of many unsanitary conditions. It is likely to be held, however, that the chief cause of the improved showing are the relaying of certain important sewers, and the general street improvement that has gone steadily on. The latter may, indeed, be the chief cause, for no department of the city has been so active.

When it is remembered how much of the time everybody spends in the streets, and how extensively the avocations of a large class are carried on there, it is not difficult to conclude that any considerable betterment of their condition is likely to be manifest in the improved general health of the people.

Whatever is deserving of credit for the improved mortality showing, the showing itself may legitimately be urged everywhere as a recommendation for this city as an abiding place.

It is a far more appealing thing to give official facts and figures as to the health of a city than to indulge in indiscriminate climatological hot air, as may have come to be too much of a Californian habit.

The man who sold the "Cleveland" letter to the New York Times has been arrested for forging the name of the dead ex-President to a spurious document. In connection with his arrest he likes to put himself in the same category as Dreyfus, and poses as a much-abused, innocent party, singled out as a scapegoat. His assumptions are not impressive, however.

A heading of a news item is, "Great Year for the Automobile." Yes, the swift wagon has picked them up right lively. And there are two months and eight days yet before the year is over.

U. S. OFFICE IS AT SHINTO FUNERAL

General Nodzu Buried With Great Pomp According to Military and Religious Faith of Japan.

TOKIO, Oct. 23. — The funeral of General Count Mochitsuna Nodzu died last Saturday, was held, most impressive scenes marking the last rites, which were conducted according to the Shinto religious belief. The full military services were carried out on Aoyama parade ground. The full military escort, which followed the body to the grave, consisted of four battalions. The guard of honor, which marched beside the coffin, consisted of a full-dressed gun carriage, was headed by Admiral Togo, fleet admiral of Japan, Marquis Ito and other admirals and generals.

SPERRY AT FUNERAL.

The procession was fully two miles in length. Admiral Sperry, commander of the American fleet, personally attended the funeral and followed the coffin, accompanied by his staff. The diplomatic corps was present in its full strength, giving the funeral a semi-international tone.

PRESENTS FOR SPIRIT.

During the morning preceding the funeral the Emperor, the crown prince and the royal princes sent presents to the home of the dead general to be offered to the spirit of the late general in accordance with Shinto belief. Among the most conspicuous of the floral offerings were those of the Emperor and a wreath sent by Admiral Sperry.

General Nodzu was of Satsuma Prefecture and a typical soldier of Japan. When many of his fellow tribesmen joined the Shinto rebellion in 1877, he stood firm for the emperor and fought against his old friends with utmost zeal. His men are cherished as a model of all that a servant of the Emperor should be.

'ISLE OF SPICE' FULL OF GOOD LAUGHS

Musical Comedy at Macdonough Is Extraordinary in all Its Features, Especially Pretty Girls.

It doesn't take much power of deduction to figure out that if it costs several thousand dollars to produce an ordinary musical comedy, it must cost a small fortune to launch an extraordinary extravaganza like the "Isle of Spice." It is, in fact, a musical masterpiece. It is all extraordinary, scenery, electrical effects, costumes, cast, and chorus. It is the object of the press of the country to tell the theater-going public just what is good and bad in the theatrical world. Read the splendid encomiums which have been written about the greatest of all musical comedies, the "Isle of Spice." It is true, every word of it. This attraction will be on view at the Macdonough Theater tonight and Saturday night. Among the principals are Harry B. Watson, Harry Williams, Sam Rose, Harry Gunson, Roberta Wilson, Percy Bacon, Robert Wilson, Edwin Lang, Marie Watson and Loretta Broadwell. These are assisted by a chorus of pretty girls who are excellent dancers and possess singing voices of a quality rarely found in musical comedy.

Black promised to place the cars of these lines back immediately on their former routes, but as the employees need time to conform to the change it was determined to defer the return to the old routes until Monday.

Manager Black yesterday ordered transfer slips printed according to the old system. He intends using a uniform color, preferring white. The slip will be lessened, however. It will contain the names of the transfer points as before. The conductors will not be required to punch the particular intersecting street as by the old system which caused so much objection. FIGURES FAVORABLE TO CITY AT CONTINUANCE OF SUIT

Harry Holcomb the Last Realty Expert on the Stand

When Judge Harris adjourned court last evening he continued the condemnation proceedings of the city against the property of the late Harry Holcomb, the real estate dealer, who was on the stand and was being cross-examined by Attorney Chapman for the defendants. All the witnesses who had appeared earlier in the trial for the city gave what they considered reasonable estimates of the value of the property in question and these values were singularly in contrast with the value which was given by the appraisers for the defendants. The latter gave the property an average value of $11,553, whereas those who testified for the city, namely, F. J. Woodward, W. J. Layman, A. J. Snyder, gave the land an average valuation of only $2,954.66.

HOLCOMB'S FIGURES LOWER.

The testimony of Mr. Holcomb, however, reduced the average valuation to $1,839, or $1,118.08 below that of the preceding expert.

When Mr. Holcomb, who is a member of the Holcomb Realty Company, took the stand, Attorney Snook described the property and then asked the witness what he felt to be the value of the tract, on the first of November, 1907.

"The value of the property," said the witness, "was $48,482."

This valuation was even lower than that placed upon it by A. J. Snyder, the preceding witness, the difference in favor of Holcomb's estimate being $1,071.

Mr. Holcomb valued the lot, 100 feet square, at the southeast corner of Fallon and Twelfth streets at $10,000.

All the witnesses for the city have placed the same valuation on the lot in question.

TWELFTH STREET PROPERTY.

On the strip of land on the south line of Twelfth street, 100 feet deep and extending 440 7-10 feet easterly from a point 100 feet easterly from Fallon street, the witness placed a valuation of $19,815.50. This estimate was $2,953 above that of Mr. Snyder and $2,041 less than that of Mr. Layman.

On the remainder of the property, that is, bounded on the west by the east line of Fallon street, between a point 100 feet southerly from Twelfth street, and the center line of Twelfth street, extending to a point 414 feet easterly from Fallon street, on the east by a fence extending northerly to a point 100 feet southerly from the south line of Twelfth street and 512 feet easterly from the east line of Fallon street, and thence to the east line of Fallon street, Mr. Holcomb placed a valuation of $18,860.

HIS CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The witness was then cross-examined by Attorney Chapman, the questions being of the same general character as those already referred to in these columns.

The Holcomb estimate reduced the average valuation of the property to $6,896, which is a reduction from the average as it stood up to the time the witness testified.

Arriving at his conclusion as to the value of the land, the witness stated that he had taken a number of things into consideration. He had in mind, he said, the Bacon property, which was sold for $15 a foot. He had also in mind the fact that, to enlist a purchaser to invest in that land, the price would have to be such that he would get his money out after the property was put in marketable condition. The purchaser of so large a piece of property would naturally have to buy the property at a figure which would enable him to get a profit from a subdivision standpoint.

Another point was that the property might be acquired by a corporation where, like Edison Park, there might be baseball grounds and other attractions which would not require a great outlay. Still another point was that it might be sold to an amusement company.

BUSINESS CONSIDERATION.

Another element was that the small business rental value increased according to congestion of quarters. While business quarters could be established there, the rental could not equal that which could be secured elsewhere.

Lake Merritt, with its boats, was a pleasure center and the property in dispute could be used for lemonade stands, etc.

The class of buyers who ought to be there could not be found because of the nature of the soil.

He also had in mind the expense of filled ground where the street had settled because of passing traffic. How long that would require to settle would be a matter of time.

Formerly the Eleventh street line ran to Alameda. The witness stated that he had ridden across that trestle and there was always a wavy sensation. While these piles were down probably fifty feet there always seemed to be sponge to them.

THE ELEMENT OF MUD.

The mud would militate against the sale of the property. It did not make a stable foundation. The depth of mud required a greater amount of filling. The witness assumed that the hard pan was from fifteen to fifty feet below the surface on the lot at the southeast corner of Fallon and Twelfth streets. Throughout the property the depth was from fifteen to twenty feet. A great part of the place was covered with mud. He saw whatever mud there was there. The property would require a fill of from six to nine feet. To make the fill complete, several feet of earth would have to be placed above the fill to grade in order to allow for sinking of the filling. The property would not be merchantable unless it was brought to grade. It would cost from $20 to $30 per front foot to put the property into a merchantable condition. In such a condition that a dealer could take a purchaser there and try to sell him a lot. A man would have to put that money into the property before the latter could be sold. On that basis, the witness took the view that the property was before it was filled and it might be impossible to sell him a lot because he might not want to build a house on filled-in property.

BULLET PLOUGHS THROUGH HIS CHEEK

Berkeley Man Wounded, it is Said, While Cleaning Revolver in Friend's Room.

BERKELEY, Oct. 23.—Albert Heald, a mate on the Sacramento river steamer Apache, and living at 3318 Schuyler avenue, Fruitvale, was accidentally shot last night in the apartment of Robert Mueller, at 2401 Ellsworth street. Mueller was cleaning a hammerless revolver and had neglected to remove the cartridges. In some manner the gun was discharged, the bullet hitting Heald in the right cheek, near the eye, and ploughing its way around the jaw bone, emerging at the back of the neck. Heald was taken to the police station and Dr. Robert M. Peck summoned. It was found that his wound, while dangerous, would probably not be fatal, and after having been dressed Heald was removed to his home.

Mueller and Heald were both emphatic in their statements that the shooting was accidental. Mueller is a carrier in the South Berkeley post office. Both men are about 25 years of age.

BERKELEY, Oct. 23.—"It was due to whiskey," ruefully declared William Miner to Chief of Police Vollmer this morning, when he was arrested for desertion from the training ship Independence during the visit to Santa Monica just May of the battleship fleet. "It hadn't been for whiskey I would have been flirting with the pretty girls in Australia or rubbing noses with the Mikado now. Never again." Miner confessed that he had been a fireman on the ship and was assured shoreward by the fiestas and receptions to the sailors and forgot to return. "The police believe Miner formerly deserted from the army."

At last; a Player Piano, operating the entire key board without fatigue to the performer.

Heretofore Player Pianos have either been limited to the use of only sixty-five out of the eighty-eight notes of the piano, or if they played the entire range of the piano key board, were such a tax upon the muscles of the legs and ankles that the fatigue of operating them was greater than the pleasure they afforded.

Everyone knows that the really beautiful pieces of music require the entire key board of the piano for their proper execution and that in re-writing them to fit the sixty-five note player, much of the brilliancy of the original music had to be eliminated.

The objectionable fact that Player Pianos only operated sixty-five out of the eighty-eight notes was overcome some time ago by the introduction of eighty-eight note players, but it was only with the perfection of the eighty-eight note Farrand-Cocilian that both ease in operation and the playing of the entire key board were combined.

These instruments are now being demonstrated in our Oakland store, and are well worth seeing. They signify a radical improvement in Player pianos and should be thoroughly investigated before any other Player is purchased.

Ultimately all Player Pianos will play the eighty-eight notes, but all will never be easy to operate, and any instrument that completely tires the operator is far from being a source of real enjoyment.

These eighty-eight note Farrand-Cocilians can be played either by hand like an ordinary piano or mechanically as a Player Piano. All the standard sixty-five note rolls can be played upon them as well as the new eighty-eight note rolls, so that no music need be destroyed.

The most remarkable feature of this new instrument, aside from the fact that it plays the entire key board, is that its Player mechanism is composed entirely of metal, which is by long odds the most vital mechanical improvement ever made in Piano Player construction.

Steel, brass and bronze are used for all air chambers, valves and connections instead of wood as heretofore, thus doing away with the difficulties of contraction or expansion occasioned by climatic changes, heat or dampness, which have always caused so much trouble in the wooden action found in all Piano Players.

It is really an instrument of eminent importance and will prove to be of great interest to all those people who are impressed with the fact that they want a Player Piano, but who wish to be assured that they are getting the very best that money can buy.

The bride-elect is an accomplished musician and is a popular member of the younger set. The bride and groom will leave immediately for Tonopah, Nevada, where the groom is engaged in business.

YOUTHFUL HIGHWAYMEN SENTENCED TO PRISON

Jack Carroll and Thomas Dean, who pleaded guilty to vagrancy, were sentenced to six months in the city prison today by Judge Smith.

Carroll and Dean, twenty and seventeen years of age, respectively, are the two young men arrested at Sixteenth and Chestnut streets with masks and revolvers in their pockets and who confessed they were about to enter upon a career as highwaymen. They are recent arrivals from Oregon. They deny that they were ever implicated in any shady transaction.

Sweater Coats $2

Another lot of Sweater Coats has arrived and they are the prettiest we have seen this season.

The colors are Oxford, navy and brown, and each is most artistically trimmed with some harmonious color.

The garments come in different weights and the yarn is absolutely all wool. Prices $2.00, $2.50 and $3.50.

To see the suit we sell at $20 is to buy one. You will be impressed with these suits the minute you try them on; your only hesitancy will be as to which particular suit to take—they are all so stylishly cut and the patterns so unusually pleasing.

You can have your choice of a single or double-breasted suit; there is further choice in the manner the suit is treated. Some have cuffs on sleeves with rows of buttons; some have the cuffs even more elaborate; others have slant pockets, and still others have straps over the pockets.

The fabrics are all wool chevrons in the newest stripe effects, in shades of brown, green and London smoke. The sizes range from 34 to 50—we can fit any man of normal build.

See these suits at $20 before you buy your fall outfit.

Sisters, Aged 12 and 6, Are Held for Long Series of Robberies

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 22.—Two sisters, one of them 12 years of age and the other six, are accused by the police of long series of robberies here, running over a period of three months. The names of the children are withheld by the police.

It is said that a search of a playhouse and doll's trunk at the girls' home resulted in the finding of jewelry valued at thousands of dollars. The children were allowed to make pocket money by selling soap on commission and this chance to visit various houses, the police say, was used by them to take large quantities of jewelry.

POISON WORKS AT LAST FOR DESPONDENT LOVER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Despite every effort made on the part of the surgeons at the Central Emergency hospital to save his life, Clarence C. Spink, steward at the Potrero Emergency hospital died at 6:30 o'clock this morning from weakness caused by his attempt at suicide yesterday.

Spink took a dose of a poison believed to be morphine an dthen jumped into the bay at the foot of Fourth street. He had become despondent because a girl, of whom he was very fond, had gone back on him. This morning, Miss Edith Franklin called and inquired for him at the hospital, but on being questioned, she stated that she was not the young woman in the case, but a friend of hers.

ROUSING RALLY HELD BY REPUBLICANS IN ALAMEDA

Hundreds Attend Meeting Addressed by Prominent Speakers

ALAMEDA, Oct. 23.—The Republican rally at Bernal Hall last night was one of the most enthusiastic rallies ever held in Alameda. Not only was the hall filled, but there was a spirit which augured well for a unanimous, straight Republican vote in Alameda on election day. The speakers were Hon. Myron Wolf, Congressman Knowland, Assemblyman Otis and Judges Waste, Harris and Brown.

The chairman of the Republican county central committee called the meeting to order and introduced the chairman of the evening, John H. Walker, one of the younger Republicans in Alameda. The chairman introduced Judge T. W. Harris, the first speaker of the evening.

Judge Harris told of his public career and thanked the voters of Alameda for the splendid vote they gave him when he first asked for their support. He said that he did not consider a public office a private snap, but believed in putting in the full required time, or a little more.

Judge Harris paid a splendid tribute to Judge H. A. Marvin in connection with the latter's candidacy for the Supreme bench. He not only declared that Judge Marvin was the soul of integrity, but was the friend of every man, woman and child in Alameda county and was an honor and a credit to his home county.

He closed with a national candidate, for the head of the national ticket and his colleagues, Judges Waste and Brown.

Judge Waste said that the meeting was one of the largest and best yet held for the candidates. He especially noted the warmth of the greeting of his Alameda audience.

JUDGE BROWN SPEAKS.
Judge Brown was introduced by Chairman Walker as the best district attorney Alameda county ever had. Judge Brown referred his hearers to his work as district attorney and said that he had done his duty as he saw it and as a free man would continue to do his full duty as it appeared to him.

Assemblyman Otis first spoke of the local candidates, leading off with Judge Marvin. He closed with a national candidate, for the head of the national ticket and his colleagues, Judges Waste and Brown.

On referring to Bryan, Assemblyman Otis said that the paramount issue was a matter of pure and simple honesty, of the prosecution of the Roosevelt policies, of the rule of the people, and of the successful prosecution under Roosevelt of great corporations and trusts for breaking the laws.

BRYAN'S WATCHWORD.
Congressman Knowland said: "We are informed by our Democratic friends that the paramount issue of this campaign is 'Shall the people rule?' Probably past experience has taught Mr. Bryan that watchwords like these are far safer and less apt to be a cause for future embarrassment than such slogans as 'Sixteen to one' and 'The people have ruled.' Should the Democratic party by any combination of circumstances be successful in gaining the presidency, it would mean such an interpretation of 'Shall the people rule?' Under Republican administration the people have always ruled, and under no administration has the rule of the people been more apparent than during the years that Theodore Roosevelt has been President of the United States."

of the great railroads, the aim being made that the conduct of government was no concern of the citizen. The people thought otherwise and under a Republican administration the people ruled.

CHILD LABOR LAWS.
"Eighty-three million people a pure food law—a law that protect the health of every man, woman and child in the nation. The first of these who had grown up in the adulteration of food stuffs and the compounding of patent medicines, but the people ruled."

"Congress set an excellent example to the whole country by passing the pure food law. It is a model of legislation and possesses ability, moral courage and a splendid trained intellect. As to your townsmen, Joe Knowland, the representative of the Third Congressional district, I can tell you nothing but what you already know about him. The same traits of character, and sterling worth that have made him a popular idol in his home town and the congressional district, he represents so well and ably have made him popular and a power in Congress."

"Now a word as to Judge Henry A. Marvin. He is conscientious and sympathetic and the possessor of the judicial temperament. The Supreme bench of the State will be strengthened by his election. I hope that Alameda county will honor and honor itself by giving him unanimous support."

MYRON WOLF SPEAKS.
Mr. Myron Wolf, State Insurance Commissioner, said: "Alameda county has long had the repu-

ANNOUNCEMENT

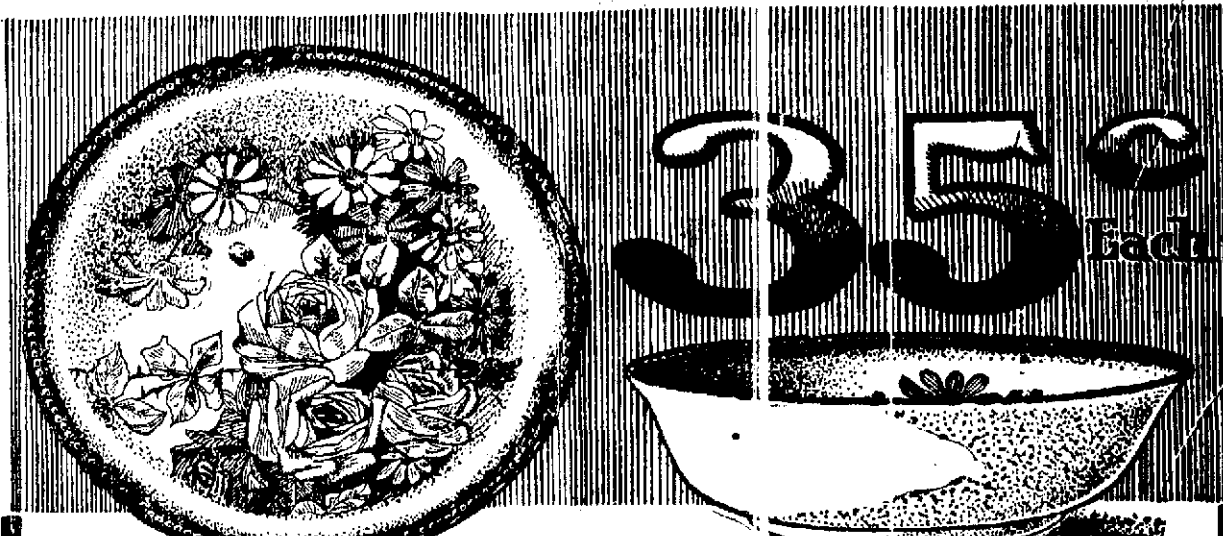

LEHNHARDT REPEATS THE DELICIOUS FROZEN PUDDING HE MADE RECENTLY

WONDERFUL SUCCESS OF A SUNDAY SPECIAL FIVE WEEKS AGO WARRANTS ITS REPETITION—CONSIDERS IT THE FINEST FROZEN
PUDDING HE EVER MADE—A CHANCE FOR EPICURES TO PASS JUDGMENT.

About a month ago, Lehnhardt, the candy man, made a frozen pudding which created an immense amount of interest among the housekeepers of Alameda County. It was made after a recipe that first received its prominence at Rector's Restaurant in Chicago, and later on made a big hit in New York. It was then produced in Philadelphia, Boston and New Orleans from which source Mr. Lehnhardt got track of the dessert, and after considerable difficulty succeeded in producing it successfully.

It was first offered to the customers of Lehnhardt in the form of a special Sunday dessert, and the orders that he received for it almost overwhelmed his manufacturing facilities. The day after this dessert was produced, Mr. Lehnhardt was in receipt of so many compliments for the success of the dessert, that he resolved to repeat it again in the future, and as a consequence is offering it to his patrons next Sunday.

"This pudding is made by combining the finest French fruits with nuts and heavy cream," said Mr. Lehnhardt this morning. "This combination is then frozen into a brick and packed in ice. I have made a specialty of Nouvelle puddings for a great many years, and my experience with them was of considerable assistance in producing this pudding, which I consider to be the finest frozen pudding I have ever made and which I know will be
